

Starting a conversation...

"Where I'm coming from/ What I'm doing"

The first conference of the Oral History Society's new "Psycho-Social Therapies and Care Environments" Special Interest Group
Come help us to inaugurate this new undertaking!

April 27th, 2016
10:30 to 16:45

Barns Conference Centre, Church Lane, Toddington, Glos. GL54 5DQ

In this first conference sponsored by the Oral History Society's new PST&CE Special Interest Group, the emphasis is on establishing a conversation among the wide range of people who are using oral history to explore the history and heritage of 'care environments' and/or psycho-social therapies; who use oral history as a tool and/or companion within care and therapeutic practice; or who simply wish to look at the emotional and personal dynamics of oral history interviewing in closer detail. Where are we coming from, what are we doing, what do we share, where do we diverge: What is oral history?

Given the issues raised and the connections made, what is the next piece of work for the Group?

Everyone welcome!

The Inaugural General Meeting of the new Special Interest Group will take place on the evening of the 26th to agree a Constitution and elect officers. Join us for dinner, business, and conversation after! Membership in the Group is free for Oral History Society members.

Conference fee for Special Interest Group members: £30
Conference fee for other Oral History Society members: £35.
Conference fee for non-members £40.
Conference fee includes lunch and refreshments.

There is a special limited-availability overnight conference rate of £80, which includes dinner on the evening of April 26th, overnight accommodation, breakfast on the morning of April 27th, and the conference itself (which includes lunch and refreshments).

The above is ideal for Special Interest Group members taking part in the Inaugural General Meeting after dinner on April 26th, or delegates travelling from distance.

Payment by cheque only, please, made out to "Oral History Society".
