

Culture & Global Mental Health Film Series: Breaking the Chains

Breaking the Chains

A film-documentary screening followed by a panel discussion in the presence of the director,
Dr Erminia Colucci

Thursday 7 July 2016
18:00-20:00

S-2.18 Lucas Lecture Theatre
King's College London
Strand Campus
London WC2R 2LS

FREE EVENT
All welcomed!

Reserve your place here
For information:
<http://www.kcl.ac.uk>
e.colucci@qmul.ac.uk

Breaking the Chains (2015, 64 min, Indonesia/UK/Australia/Italy) Thousands and thousands of people worldwide live in isolation, chained, or inside "animal cages", naked, undernourished and often living in their own excrements because of mental health problems. The mental and physical consequences of these conditions are profound, including death. Breaking the Chains follows the activities that have been initiated in Indonesia by a group of people with mental health problems who search for and then set free other people who are victims of these practices. More details: <https://movie-ment.org/>

The Summer course Movie and Documentary in Mental Health: From Research to Public Engagement will also be held at KCL Strand Campus on the 7–8 July 2016. Register now!

This event is part of a monthly series, coordinated by Dr Erminia Colucci (Queen Mary University) and Dr Alex Cohen (LSHTM)