

Developing a search strategy for a systematic review

DATE: 25 – 26 July 2016

Cardiff University Heath Park Campus

Cost: £400

(Reduced fee of £350 may be available for Cardiff University)

OBJECTIVE

This interactive workshop will provide a step-by-step guide to constructing an advanced search strategy for a systematic review with a focus on the health/medical literature.

COMPREHENSIVE

COVERS KEY ASPECTS

- Formulation of focused research question
- Identification of search terms to describe concepts
- Preparation of a search strategy
- Supplementary search methods
- Text mining and managing references

RELEVANT

TAILORED TO TARGET AUDIENCE

- Postgraduate healthcare researchers
- Information specialists
- Healthcare professionals
- Policy makers

It is essential that participants come to the course with a review topic for discussion.
Please contact us at sure@Cardiff.ac.uk for further information or to register your interest.