

Writing Qualitative Data: A Masterclass led by Professor David Silverman

The Qualitative Group, Primary Care and Population Sciences at the University of Southampton, invites you to a one day masterclass on writing qualitative research led by world renowned expert Professor David Silverman. Designed for ECRs as well as PhD students, this masterclass is an opportunity to learn how to build theory from data and how to do credible qualitative research. It will be illustrated by Professor Silverman's research on healthcare and counselling sessions based on a constructionist perspective.

The workshop will include lectures and practical sessions, as well as a limited number of one-to-one supervisions.

You are warmly invited to register for this event here.

Numbers are limited to ensure opportunities for participation and discussion.
