

Looking Back, Looking Forward:

Inviting you to a special conference marking 20 years of fire-related research, development and innovation (RE16)

Date: Tuesday 15th November 2016

Venue: West Midlands Fire Service HQ, Birmingham<sup>1</sup>

Bookings are now being taken for this special twentieth conference on fire-related research and developments (RE16) to be held at West Midlands Fire Service HQ. This annual event brings together delegates from a range of backgrounds including Fire and Rescue Services, senior policy-makers, universities, consultants and international organisations interested in fire-related research and best practice. We warmly invite you to join us and our colleagues from Fire Magazine and Gore and ask you to help spread news of this event to others who may be interested in attending.

Benefits of attending this event include the opportunity to:

- ♦ Be informed about the latest developments in research and best practice and learn from a range of approaches and perspectives on key topical issues.
- ♦ Meet and network with a range of professionals from across international fire-related communities.
- ♦ Receive a certificate of attendance and award of CPD hours by the IFE (we offer a special discounted rate for IFE members and students currently studying at University).
- ♦ Discuss opportunities for further professional development with representatives from the IFE.

For further details of the programme and to book your place please go to: <http://www.ife.org.uk/Events/38218>

<sup>1</sup> 99 Vauxhall Road, Birmingham, B7 4HW. Located in the City Centre, the venue is within walking distance of Birmingham New Street and Moor Street stations and also convenient for Birmingham International Airport