

LABOURING AND GIVING BIRTH IN WATER: EVIDENCE, PRACTICE, AND VIEWS

Saturday 12 November 2016, 8:45-16:30

John Henry Brookes Building, Headington Campus, Oxford, OX3 0BP

This conference aims to develop knowledge and skills about birthing pool use during labour and birth. You will hear about emerging research and practice trends regarding labouring and giving birth in water in the UK and beyond. You will also receive some hot tips about how to care for women in a birthing pool environment. There will be discussion time to share ideas and experiences about this care option.

FURTHER INFORMATION:

Attendance fee for the day, including coffee, lunch and tea is £45 and £30 for students. To book a place, please contact Ethel Burns. Places are limited and shall be offered on a first come, first served basis. Please act early to avoid disappointment.

SPEAKERS INCLUDE

Ethel Burns - Senior Lecturer Midwifery, Oxford Brookes University

Elizabeth Cluett - Lead Midwife for Education, Director of Practice Projects for Professional Registration, Faculty of Health Sciences, University of Southampton

Charles Roehr - Consultant, Newborn Services, Oxford University Hospitals, NHS Foundation Trust

Paula Barry - Research Midwife, Coombe Women & Infants University Hospital, Dublin

Ruth Banks - Clinical Skills Facilitator, Coombe Women & Infants University Hospital, Dublin

Jane Carpenter - Midwife, Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust

TO BOOK YOUR PLACE GO TO:

shop.brookes.ac.uk

CONTACT DETAILS

ETHEL BURNS

eburns@brookes.ac.uk

Tel 01865 485296