

Open to new ideas. Since 1365. As a research university with high international visibility and a wide range of degree programmes, the University of Vienna is committed to basic research open to application and research-led teaching, as well as to career development of young researchers and to the dialogue with economy and society. That way, the University of Vienna contributes to the education of future generations and to the society's ability to innovate.

The appointment of researchers with high potential to the announced positions is an important strategy of the University of Vienna. Become part of this vibrant and future-oriented organisation.

At the Faculty of Psychology of the University of Vienna the position of a

Tenure-Track Position for the field of Neuropsychology with clinical-cognitive focus

(full-time position, by March 1, 2018) is to be filled.

The tenure-track position is expected to focus (in research and teaching) on a combination of neuropsychological, clinical and cognitive approaches. This should amongst others be reflected in an integrative and multi-disciplinary research approach when addressing clinical-cognitive research questions, and entail the use of neuro-cognitive research methods to pursue research questions relevant to the domain of clinical psychology. Moreover, contributions in the domain of Neuropsychopharmacology are expected. With regard to research topics, an emphasis on clinical-neuropsychological aspects of human social behaviour is required.

The work and research profile of candidates is expected to be based on an empirical approach and should be compatible, in terms of both thematic and methodological fit, with the thematic research areas at the Faculty of Psychology (<https://psychologie.univie.ac.at/forschung>). The appointee should show the potential and the willingness to establish a sustainable bridge between research activities at the Faculty in the domains of "Clinical and Health Psychology" and "Cognitive and Neuropsychology". In addition, strong initiative in raising third-party funds as well as the establishment of an independent research group are expected. The appointee is required to contribute to teaching in the domain of the position, in the Faculty of Psychology's Bachelor and Master Program as well as in the Doctoral Program (in case of an already existing habilitation).

Main research area: Psychology / 5010

Specialization: Clinical Psychology / 501010, Cognitive Psychology / 501011, and Neuropsychology / 501014

Successful candidates should have the following qualifications:

- Doctoral degree/PhD and at least two years post-doctoral experience at a university or other research institution
- Outstanding achievements and potential in research, excellent publication record, international reputation, in the domain of the position
- Experience in designing and participating in research projects, as well as the willingness and ability to lead research groups

- High interest and engagement in teaching, teaching experience at universities or a teaching concept as well as the ability and willingness to teach students in all phases of their studies (bachelor's, master's, or doctoral level), to supervise academic theses and to promote young academic colleagues

The University of Vienna expects the successful candidate to acquire, within three years, proficiency in German sufficient for teaching in bachelor's programmes and for participation in university committees. In addition, the University of Vienna expects the successful candidate to be prepared to take over responsibilities on the administrative level of the Faculty of Psychology and the University, if necessary.

Job description:

The announced position is an academic tenure-track position. Within two years' time, the University will offer a qualification agreement if the academic performance suggests that the required high qualification can be reached. Upon completion of the qualification agreement, the employee will be allocated to the group of "Assistant Professors". If the qualification is achieved according to the agreement, employment, which originally has a six-year duration, will be continued for an indefinite period as an "Associate Professor". Via a further competitive procedure as stipulated in the University's Statutes, associate professors can be directly promoted to full professor. If the qualification goals are not achieved, the employment will end upon expiry of the contract term.

We offer:

- the opportunity for a long-term career track (initial classification according to the Collective Bargaining Agreement for University Staff: section 48, job group B1, lit. b)
- in addition to the statutory social insurance, the University of Vienna offers a pension fund to its employees
- a dynamic research location with well-established research funding provisions
- attractive working conditions in a city with a high quality of life
- a wide range of support services offered by central service institutions

The University of Vienna pursues a non-discriminatory employment policy and values equal opportunities, as well as diversity (<http://diversity.univie.ac.at/en>). The University lays special emphasis on increasing the number of women in senior and in academic positions. Given equal qualifications, preference will be given to female applicants.

Application documents:

- Letter of application, including a brief description of (max. 3 pages):
 - current research interests and research plans for the immediate future, in the domain of the position and with respect to the job requirements listed
 - current and prospective foci in academic teaching and the supervision of young researchers
- Academic curriculum vitae, including information about "esteem factors" (e.g. experience as a publisher, functions in research societies or programme committees, or other indicators of academic leadership)
- List of publications, including:
 - specification of five key publications which the applicant considers particularly relevant to the advertised tenure-track position

- provision of a download link or electronic submission of PDF versions of these five publications
- information about citations and impact factors, depending on the standards used in the research domain of the position
- List of talks given,
including information about invited keynote lectures at international conferences
- Third-party funding
list of acquired third-party funded projects, as well as a list of third-party funded projects which the candidate was a member of (subject, duration, origin, volume), and, if applicable, of inventions/patents
- Overview of previous academic teaching and/or teaching concepts as well as supervised theses
- Teaching evaluations (if available)
- Copies of documents and certificates relevant for the position

Please send your application — preferably in English and in electronic form — to the Job Center of the University of Vienna (jobcenter@univie.ac.at).

Reference no.: 7984

The application deadline is 15 October 2017.