

Step into their shoes

How can you help a struggling child, adolescent or adult?

What challenges will you face?

University of Essex

Our Foundation Degree in Therapeutic Communication and Therapeutic Organisations helps you understand and work with people with educational, social, emotional and behavioural difficulties.

You will study:

- psychodynamic theory and practice
- child and adult development
- issues of trauma and violence
- working one-to-one
- working with groups
- the dynamics of therapeutic interventions in organisations

This two-year course, with October entry, is taught at both our Colchester and Southend campuses. A BA (Hons) 'top-up' year is also available.

Our course is accredited by:

APPCIOS

The Association for Psychodynamic Practice and Counselling in Organisational Settings

Consistently delivering outstanding teaching and learning for our students.
