WHAT IS THE τ-MAIL PROJECT ABOUT?

The t-MAIL project aims to develop and test a mobile application for primary school teachers.

Its objective is to support teachers in promoting their pupils' self-regulated learning, and to implement and monitor policies related to increased student autonomy.
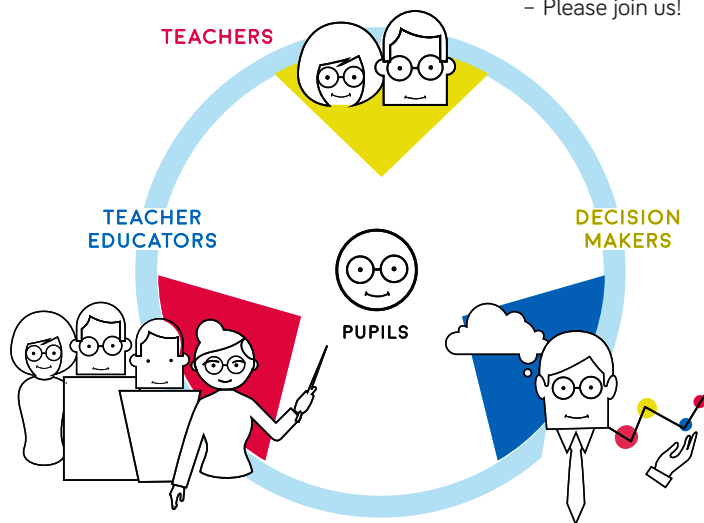

WHAT MAKES τ-MAIL UNIQUE?

- Benefits multiple target groups
- Founded on state-of-the-art research
- Personalised and responsive analytics

WHAT WILL τ-MAIL DELIVER?

The project runs from 1 November 2015 until 31 October 2017 and contains the following deliverables:

- A mobile app
  - for your smartphone or tablet
  - available for free
  - available in English, French, German, Spanish, Dutch and Macedonian
- Automatically generated reports for teacher educators and decision makers (driven by learning analytics)
- User manual on how to use learning analytics
- An implementation plan helping organisations and other educational systems to introduce the app
- A project website – Please visit us!
- A final conference (in October 2017 at the EDEN Thematic Conference) – Please join us!
