Associate Professor Positions opening in the field of Design at Politecnico di Milano

The Design Department of Politecnico di Milano is opening full-time permanent positions at the Associate Professor level for top international candidates from foreign institutions.

According to the Italian law on the direct call of foreign professors (art 1-bis 1/2009 and its subsequent modifications), applicants should have a foreign passport and have worked permanently in a University or Research Centre for at least three years.

Applicants should hold an associate professor permanent position, or equivalent position, or they should have a curriculum qualified to pass the Italian National Scientific Qualification (<http://abilitazione.miur.it>).

The call intends to collect Expressions of interest by potential applicants, welcoming experts in educational and research activities in the different fields of Design. The candidate should comply with the research activities of the Department of Design (www.dipartimentodesign.polimi.it/en/) and with the Courses of the School of Design (www.design.polimi.it).

The applicants should be highly motivated both to research and education, and they should:

- hold previous teaching experience at the undergraduate and/or postgraduate levels in a Design School;
- be supervisor of students' thesis and, possibly, also at doctoral level;
- play an international role in their teaching and research fields;
- raise international research funding and propose cutting-edge research topics;
- be fluent in English.

The position offers a regular "associate professor" salary (Politecnico di Milano follows the salary system of the Italian Public Universities), a tax reduction for the first four years, a lump sum to support the research and teaching activities of the newcomers (to be spent within three years). To get further information about benefits and administrative rules please contact the Human Resources office and Visiting Professor Welcome office, Politecnico di Milano hosts@polimi.it
