

Museum Education and Learners with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND)

Friday 23rd March 2018

10am - 4pm

Venue

Greenwich Heritage Centre, part of Royal Greenwich Heritage Trust, is the museum and archive for the Royal Borough of Greenwich, located on Royal Arsenal Riverside, Woolwich. Find us here

Objectives

This training will enable you to:

- Be aware of the range of SEND in mainstream schools and how needs are identified and monitored.
- Learn how different learning needs may be supported during a school trip.
- Discuss an issue or problem from your own experiences or organisation.
- Identify resources to help with the planning and delivery of school sessions.

Trainer

John Galloway is a specialist in the use of technology to improve educational inclusion, particularly for children and young people with special educational needs. He works for Tower Hamlets as an Advisory Teacher, and also as a freelance consultant, trainer and writer. John has presented at conferences across the UK and internationally and is a published writer, most recently co-authoring 'Learning with Mobile and Handheld Technologies' – winner of Best Book in the 2015 Technology and Innovation Awards.

Testimonials for Museum Education and Learners with SEND 2017

"The content of the session was very detailed and gave a great overview not only of the practicality of running an SEN offer but also the needs and outcomes schools are potentially looking to utilise."

"Comprehensive content delivered in a friendly manner".

Requirements

On the day, please bring a laptop if possible and a question or issue that you would like to discuss.

Bookings

Spaces are limited and cost £25 + VAT per person. To book, please visit Eventbrite

Please note that we require a minimum of 20 bookings by Friday 16th March 2018 in order to run this event. Tickets will be refundable until this date and in the event of cancellation, customers will be notified and fully refunded.