

President Mayur Lakhani and the Officers of the RCGP would like to invite you to the opening of the exhibition:

Migrants who made the NHS

South Asian Doctors and British General Practice from the 1940s to the 1980s

And the launch of Dr Julian M. Simpson's book:
Migrant architects of the NHS: South Asian doctors and the reinvention of British general practice (1940s-1980s)
(Manchester University Press)

On 25 April 2018, 6-8pm

At the Royal College of General Practitioners,
30 Euston Square, London NW1 2FB

The book and exhibition are based on ground-breaking research that bears witness to the key role migrant South Asian doctors played in the development of general practice and healthcare in Britain.

The RCGP is particularly proud to be recognising their work as the NHS celebrates its 70th anniversary.

Royal College of General Practitioners

For more information and to confirm attendance:
heritage@rcgp.org.uk or call 0203 188 7596