

GALICIAN STUDIES MOVING WEST

III North American Symposium of Galician Studies

CALL FOR PROPOSALS - DUE MAY 10, 2018

Lend your voice to the third North American Symposium of Galician Studies – a dialogue involving North American, Galician, and international artists and scholars on a wide range of topics pertaining to the culture and identity of minority languages. Submit a proposal to present at the symposium, hosted in Denver from Oct. 18 -20.

For consideration to present at the symposium, individuals and panels must submit their proposals and a short biography by May 10.

All proposals must be 300 words or less, in Galician, English, Portuguese or Spanish.

Proposals can address topics including, but not limited to:

- Language
  - Linguistics
  - Literature and the arts
  - Gender
  - Education
  - Translation
  - Globalization and migration
  - Identity
  - History
  - Politics
  - Environment
  - Social Theory
-

For more information, email Obdulia Castro \(ocastro@regis.edu\)
or visit regis.edu/galiciasymposium

GALICIAN STUDIES MOVING WEST

III North American Symposium of Galician Studies

CALL FOR PROPOSALS - DUE MAY 10, 2018

Lend your voice to the third North American Symposium of Galician Studies – a dialogue involving North American, Galician, and international artists and scholars on a wide range of topics pertaining to the culture and identity of minority languages. Submit a proposal to present at the symposium, hosted in Denver from Oct. 18 -20.

For consideration to present at the symposium, individuals and panels must submit their proposals and a short biography by May 10.

All proposals must be 300 words or less, in Galician, English, Portuguese or Spanish.

Proposals can address topics including, but not limited to:

- Language
- Linguistics
- Literature and the arts
- Gender
- Education
- Translation
- Globalization and migration
- Identity
- History
- Politics
- Environment
- Social Theory

For more information, email Obdulia Castro \(ocastro@regis.edu\)
or visit regis.edu/galiciasymposium

GALICIAN STUDIES MOVING WEST

III North American Symposium of Galician Studies

CALL FOR PROPOSALS - DUE MAY 10, 2018

Lend your voice to the third North American Symposium of Galician Studies – a dialogue involving North American, Galician, and international artists and scholars on a wide range of topics pertaining to the culture and identity of minority languages. Submit a proposal to present at the symposium, hosted in Denver from Oct. 18 -20.

For consideration to present at the symposium, individuals and panels must submit their proposals and a short biography by May 10.

All proposals must be 300 words or less, in Galician, English, Portuguese or Spanish.

Proposals can address topics including, but not limited to:

- Language
- Linguistics
- Literature and the arts
- Gender
- Education
- Translation
- Globalization and migration
- Identity
- History
- Politics
- Environment
- Social Theory

For more information, email Obdulia Castro \(ocastro@regis.edu\)
or visit regis.edu/galiciasymposium