Fonction ou intitulé du poste : Post-doctoral Researcher

Mission principale

The SOFRA project (A SOciocultural and psychological approach to L2 FRENch Acquisition by Syrian asylum seekers) aims to examine the acquisition of French by Syrian asylum seekers in the context of their socialization in the host country, based on longitudinal data collected on three sites in the Occitanie region (Toulouse, Montpellier and Perpignan) over the period of six-months.

The postdoctoral research fellow will be recruited to work within the SOFRA project, and will be in charge of the collection, processing, analysis and structuring of linguistic and sociocultural data.

Activités

The postdoctoral fellow will be recruited for the period of one year, in order to accomplish the following missions:

- Participate in the reflection on the methodologies adopted for the field work.
- Collect language data in French as a second language and Syrian Arabic L1 at three times (over a period of 6 months)
- Collect sociocultural data at three times (over a period of 6 months)
- Follow up on the learning and socialization journal over a period of 6 months (on the Toulouse site)
- Transcribe language data
- Structure and code the different types of sociolanguage and sociocultural data
- Analyze linguistic and sociocultural data
- Structure corpora in standard formats to allow their sharing on language databases (eg. CHILDES) and archiving in the national data reservoirs (eg. ORTOLANG).
