

ORGANISING 2019: INNOVATIONS AND REFLECTIONS

Saturday 2 November,
Central London
10-6pm followed by dinner

Over the last few years, there have been many important developments in the labour and trade union movement. While we face many—and increasing—challenges, we can't solve our problems without considering examples of success.

Critical Labour Studies organisation will be considering union renewal and the potential for a mass expansion of organised labour.

Also, we'll take a look at big organising and asking could we organise everyone everywhere?
