

Comics at University

Wednesday 20th November 2019

1pm refreshments, 1.30-3.30 event

Armstrong Building G.08, Newcastle University

This event is free. Booking is essential:

<https://forms.ncl.ac.uk/view.php?id=6343491>

You are invited to this first in a series of three seminars about comics & research. This event is open to everyone. We will focus on comics (multimodal and sequential graphic narratives), with wider relevance to the teaching, learning and research of creative practice subjects, and connections between teaching and research specialisms.

Speakers:

Professor Roger Sabin (University of the Arts London)

Tara McInerney (Teesside University, co-founder for BA in Comics and Graphic Novels)

Tara and colleagues run the first Bachelor's degree that offers a comics-only specialism in the UK. Roger has been instrumental in establishing comics studies as a scholarly field. Both are experienced scholars, teachers, and creators of comics.

The artist/cartoonist invited to create a graphic response to this seminar is:

Sara Qaed (Instagram: @saraqaed Facebook: Sara Qaed Twitter: @saraqaed)

Twitter: @toon_comics

This Research & Comics seminar series is funded by Newcastle University's Institute for Social Renewal. It is jointly organised by Mel Gibson (Northumbria University), Jorge Catala-Carrasco (Newcastle University) & Lydia Wysocki (Newcastle University). Contact for queries: lydia.wysocki@ncl.ac.uk