

Participatory Workshop: Ethics & Methods of Research with Young People in the Global South

Drawing on the British Academy funded Young Migrants in Ghana project, this workshop will examine the ethical & methodological complexities of conducting research with young people in the Global South. The workshop aims to offer a forum for sharing experiences, debating the challenges & opportunities for youth-centred research in vulnerable & marginalised contexts. The workshop is open to PGRs, ECRs & experienced researchers.

For more information on the project, visit our website:

www.youngmigrantsghana.com

July 6th 10am – 3.30pm

Room HEL201

Anglia Ruskin University
East, Road, Cambridge.

To register, please visit our Eventbrite link.

